Good morning John,

Thank you very much for agreeing to field my questions about utility poles.

I am putting together a briefing document, and have some broad questions I'd like to ask you on background. I think it will be easier to ask my questions by phone rather than by email, are you available for perhaps half an hour sometime this week?

Thank you again

Hey John,

I have someone in my staff who needs to understand the ins and outs of utility poles. I need to find someone for her to ask some questions. Can you help?
