Joan – as I understand it and the rules, these things in the past have been declared to have no monetary value at all. We don't even report them as gifts. I've cc'd Redacted Redacted of our political compliance department just in case he wants to add anything else.

Subject: Bond Offering Cube/Paperweight

Dear Brian,

Commissioner Florio wanted me to send his congratulations and thanks regarding the paperweight you sent him commemorating PG&E's bond offering. However, as you're probably well aware, the Commissioner is subject to very stringent gift reporting regulations, so our office needs to find out the paper weight's value. Can someone from your office please provide us with its cost so that we're on the right side of the gift reporting requirements? Thanks for your help.

Sincerely,

Joan Dahlgren
