Hi Bishu,

Here is the text about PG&E's presentation.

PG&E will present its approach of R&D and Innovation for Gas Operations aligned with its integrated asset management process which recently achieved certification to the International Organization for Standardization (ISO 55001) and PAS 55 standards. We will show through recent successes how new technologies are developed leveraging a broad network of partners and introduced into the business to improve performance in safety, reliability and cost effectiveness. Examples will cover In Line Inspection, Leak Detection (including use of Picarro technology), Non Destructive Evaluation, and Damage Prevention.

Best regards,
