Terrie,

I'm covering for [Redacted] this week and wanted to make sure you are aware of the latest.

For your FYI, the below email with the attached "5 Minute Meeting" document was sent to employees on Friday evening as a follow-up to the employee conference call held earlier that day.

Thanks,

Team:

As discussed during our meeting this morning, attached please find a 5 minute meeting for immediate changes to plastic qualifications with the key messages, including emergency response protocols. Peter Kenny, Ross Leverett and Redacted Redacted have made significant progress on the re-qualification plan and will be working through the weekend to certify additional evaluators in order to scale up our re-qualifications on an aggressive schedule. Additional details will follow early next week.

Be safe,

Kevin and Sean
