Subject: Re: Phone call tomorrow?

Hi Sid, 10:00 works better because we are both traveling this morning and Kyle will not be at office until 10 and I will not be at the airport into 10. We will call you on your cell. Talk to you soon. Karen

Specifically, it turns out we have data-handling provisions already in the contract with SHE, and we're checking to make sure that we (and they) are living up to those provisions. If we're not or they're not, we'll be putting in place interim controls. This will solve the problem b/c then the data will be in our sphere the whole time. If we miss Wednesday, I'll give you a heads up.
