Subject: Re: Paperweight gift from PG&E

Not a problem Catherine. Our outside counsel (Merksamer) advised us that there were FPPC rulings that it was not a gift. After asking for documentation, they changed their mind. So much for the experts in law. Sorry for the inconvenience. If it were engraved to you, I'm told it would be fine.

Brian, The paperweight was thoughtful but I'd like to return it. The FPPC has determined that it doesn't fit within the personalized plaque exception and is a reportable gift over $50.00. Please pick it up from my Office tomorrow. Thanks for all of your work on GO 156, and work that benefits California and its ratepayers. Commissioner Sandoval
