We don't have any such language so far as I am aware. We did have language in an Adam Gray bill earlier this to codify the EDR but the bill stalled.

We have had discussions on the Gigafactory but don't recall language as it was meant as an administrative fix. I will double check.

I believe Trina has said that PG&E was drafting statutory language that would help with the gigawatt factory economic development rate. Can I see what you are working on?

Thanks.
