EX PARTE NOTICE OF THE UTILITY REFORM NETWORK

Pursuant to Rules 8.2, 8.3, and 8.4 of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure, The Utility Reform Network (TURN) gives notice of the following ex parte communication in this proceeding.

On August 7, 2014, Hayley Goodson and Marcel Hawiger, Staff Attorneys at TURN, met with Marcelo Poirier, Legal Advisor, and Sepideh Khosrowjah, Chief of Staff and Advisor, to Commissioner Michel P. Florio, from 3:30 p.m. until 4:05 p.m. The meeting was in-person and took place in Room 5012 on the 5th Floor of the Commission's office building located at 505 Van Ness Avenue, San Francisco, California, 94102. Ms. Goodson initiated the meeting. No one else was present during this meeting, and Ms. Goodson and Mr. Hawiger used no written materials.

Ms. Goodson and Mr. Hawiger discussed the impact of the Proposed Decision of Administrative Law Judge Thomas R. Pulsifer (GRC PD), issued in PG&E's 2014 General Rate Case, Phase 1 (A.12-11-009), on June 18, 2014, on residential customer bills, particularly in light of the other electric and gas revenue requirement increases on the horizon. Ms. Goodson explained that the combined impact of the GRC PD and PG&E's pending request in its Gas Transmission and Storage (GT&S) rate case, A.13-12-012, was approximately a 30% bill increase for residential customers in 2015, when the GT&S increase would take effect.

In a follow-up to this meeting, Ms. Goodson contacted Ms. Khosrowjah by telephone early in the afternoon on August 8, 2014. Ms. Goodson left a voicemail, lasting less than a minute, stating that PG&E is already on track in 2014 to exceed the number of residential disconnections for nonpayment in each year from 2010 through
