Today, the city of Carmel-by-the-Sea held a special Council meeting. The purpose of the meeting was to consider a resolution related to the house explosion, and direct staff to finalize a letter to be sent to the CPUC.

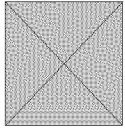

Redacted, Local Government Relations, attended the meeting and was not asked to answer questions or comment.

PG&E and the public have not received a copy of the letter or resolution. Based on the discussion at the meeting, the resolution and letter seem to include a request that PG&E and the CPUC certify the safety of the gas system. The City is also likely to request that PG&E support and consent to the City's request of an OII, or provide a written explanation.

Also of note, Mayor Burnett plans to follow up with each PUC commissioner and request an in-person meeting.

Government Relations will convene a call tomorrow morning.
