 I94-04-032 Commission Order Instituting Investigation on its proposed policies governing restructuring California's electric services industry and reforming regulation.

Summary: On August 29, 1997, Tom Thompson, of the Commission's Office of Ratepayer Advocates (ORA), met with Cmmr. Knight in San Francisco. Also present were: Dorothy Duda and Robert Lane, advisor's for Cmmr. Knight, and Chris Danforth and Steve Linsey of ORA. ORA stated that it supported the draft decision. ORA stated that it objected to Southern California Edison's (Edison) request to subject capital additions to reasonableness reviews for 1998 and beyond and to add to the incremental capital investment to the net book value of the plant. ORA stated that it objected to Edison's request to selectively apply cost-effectiveness criteria in the review of reasonableness.

9/5/97 A96-11-020 Pacific Gas and Electric Company, for authorization to sell Hunters Point, Morro Bay, Moss Landing, and Oakland generating plants and related assets.

Summary: On September 2, 1997, Joseph Malkin, attorney for Pacific Gas and Electric Company (PG&E), spoke with Julie Halligan, advisor to Cmmr. Bilas. Malkin stated that PG&E's initial bids are non-binding, and that PG&E is asking stage 2 bidders to justify any reduction in their final, binding bid amount from their initial, non-binding bid in order to try to deter "gaming" of the first stage of the auction by bidders submitting unrealistically high bids, since they are not binding, just to get into the second stage of the auction. Malkin further stated that PG&E would prefer to delete the requirement that bidders explain a decrease in their bid amount or face potential disqualification rather than to have the receipt of preliminary bids delayed.

Summary: On September 2, 1997, Jana Corey, Director of Regulatory Relations for Pacific Gas and Electric Company (PG&E), met with Cmmr. Duque, in San Francisco. Also present were: Michelle Cooke, advisor to Cmmr. Duque; and Joe Malkin, attorney for PG&E. No written materials were used. Malkin stated that PG&E is concerned with new language in the draft interim opinion that was issued by the Commission on 8/25/97. Malkin stated that although the Commission's concern that market power not merely be transferred from one entity to another is valid, the market power evaluation criteria are arbitrary and create unintended consequences that will undermine the commercial auction process. Malkin stated that adoption of the criteria on page 7 would preclude the sale of Moss Landing to any buyer, and would successfully prohibit a successful bidder in PG&E's first auction from participating in the second auction for the sale of the remainder of PG&E's plants. Malkin further stated that the condition that the Commission assert oversight over future property transfers also will be viewed adversely by potential buyers and will likely affect the financial value of the plants, and continuing oversight is not needed because protections exist under current law.
