Conlon, Bilas, Duque, Knight, and Neeper in San Francisco. Copies of the letter were also sent to Michelle Cooke, advisor for Cmmr. Duque; Dorothy Duda, advisor for Cmmr. Guliasi's letter stated that PG&E would file a "Notice of Intent" (NOI) to file its 1999 GRC application on 12/12/97. Guliasi's letter also stated the following provisions in PG&E's NOI: (1) an electric base revenue increase of approximately $703 million; (2) PG&E's requested increase in electric base revenue will not result in an increase in customer electricity rates due to the rate freeze provisions of AB 1890; (3) PG&E's proposal includes approximately $400 million in funding for electric system reliability and safety projects, and approximately $300 million in funding for enhanced customer services; (4) a gas base revenue increase of approximately $506 million; (5) PG&E's proposal includes approximately $200 million in funding to replace gas pipelines, provide ongoing inspection and maintenance, and cover higher anticipated annual depreciation cost for gas pipeline system; and (6) PG&E's proposal also includes approximately $300 million in annual funding for expanded customer service, as well as customer and other information systems.

Summary: On September 15, 1997, Lynn Mowery, Acting Regulatory Vice President for Pacific Bell (PacBell) met with Dorothy Duda, advisor for Cmmr. Knight, in San Francisco. Dan Jacobsen, Director of Regulatory and External Affairs for Pacific Bell Communications, was also present. Mowery stated that the cost allocation method did not comply with the FCC competitive neutrality requirement. Mowery stated that the costs should be allocated among all carriers, not just facility-based carriers, as imposed in the proposed decision. Mowery stated that the recovery method should ensure that the actual costs expended by a carrier should be recovered, not averaged based on the total industry costs.

Duque, in San Francisco. Cynthia Walker, Regulatory Manager for CCTA, was also present. Walker requested the opportunity to review and comment on any additional cost information that PacBell may be required to file in order for the Commission to establish geographically deaveraged prices.
