GLOSSARY

After January 1, 1998, the California Public Utilities Commission is required by statute (SB 960) to categorize each case that comes before it. There are three categories, quasi-legislative, adjudicatory and ratesetting. If a case does not require hearings before it is resolved, the case is removed from the SB 960 category requirements. The legend below shows the abbreviation for each of the categories and provides a brief explanation.

- Q Quasi-legislative proceedings are proceedings that establish policy or rules (including generic ratemaking policy or rules) affecting a class of regulated entities, including those proceedings in which the Commission investigates rates or practices for an entire regulated industry or class of entities within the industry.
- A Adjudicatory proceedings are: (1) enforcement investigations into possible violations of any provision of statutory law or order or rule of the Commission; and (2) complaints against regulated entities, including those complaints that challenge the accuracy of a bill, but excluding those complaints that challenge the reasonableness of rates or charges, past, present, or future.
- RS Ratesetting proceedings are proceedings in which the Commission sets or investigates rates for a specifically named utility (or utilities), or establishes a mechanism that in turn sets the rates for a specifically named utility (or utilities). Ratesetting proceedings include complaints that challenge the reasonableness of rates or charges, past, present, or future.
- N/A Removed from the SB 960 category requirements.

9/1/98	R95-04-043	Rulemaking on the Commission's own motion into competition for local exchange service and
	I95-04-044	Investigation on the Commission's own motion into competition for local exchange service.

Summary: LATE FILED. On August 25, 1998, Pacific Gas & Electric ("PG&E") representatives Louis Vincent (attorney) and Jill Miller-Robinett (Joint Utilities Program Manager) conducted oral ex parte communications with Mr. Robert Lane, advisor to Commissioner Knight. In regard to telecommunication carriers' possible access and placement of attachments on PG&E utility poles, the representatives requested the Commission allow the utility discretion to provide such services for a fee. It was explained that PG&E's opposition to pole attachments above its electric lines was the danger of working near energized electrical lines. Worker exposure to radio frequency radiation when cell phone antennas are attached to such facilities was an additional concern expressed by PG&E. Mr. Vincent said the proposed decision's presumption against utilities in disputes regarding safety was inappropriate, and that there should be no presumption where the dispute involves safety. Ms Miller-Robinett further indicated the appropriateness of telecommunications carriers paying for use of pole space in excess of one foot of space, particularly where pole top access was sought by the carrier.
