GLOSSARY

After January 1, 1998, the California Public Utilities Commission is required by statute (SB 960) to categorize each case that comes before it. There are three categories, quasi-legislative, adjudicatory and ratesetting. If a case does not require hearings before it is resolved, the case is removed from the SB 960 category requirements. The legend below shows the abbreviation for each of the categories and provides a brief explanation.

- Q     Quasi-legislative proceedings are proceedings that establish policy or rules (including generic ratemaking policy or rules) affecting a class of regulated entities, including those proceedings in which the Commission investigates rates or practices for an entire regulated industry or class of entities within the industry.
- A     Adjudicatory proceedings are: (1) enforcement investigations into possible violations of any provision of statutory law or order or rule of the Commission; and (2) complaints against regulated entities, including those complaints that challenge the accuracy of a bill, but excluding those complaints that challenge the reasonableness of rates or charges, past, present, or future.
- RS    Ratesetting proceedings are proceedings in which the Commission sets or investigates rates for a specifically named utility (or utilities), or establishes a mechanism that in turn sets the rates for a specifically named utility (or utilities). Ratesetting proceedings include complaints that challenge the reasonableness of rates or charges, past, present, or future.
- N/A   Removed from the SB 960 category requirements.

3/27/98            A96-12-009            Pacific Gas and Electric Company to identify and separate components of electric rates effective January 1, 1998.

Summary: On March 24, 1998, Jana Corey, director of Regulatory Relations for Pacific Gas and Electric (PG&E), met with Michelle Cooke, advisor to Cmmr. Duque, in San Francisco. Corey stated that PG&E's billing system will likely be constrained until summer 1999, when PG&E's new "flexible" billing system will be available. Corey stated that although the draft decision allows PG&E to implement the 30 day PX averaging methodology until January 1999, at this time it appears that PG&E would need to seek a further delay until the summer of 1999.
