1/19/99 A98-11-023 Pacific Gas and Electric Company, to establish performance-based ratemaking for electric and gas utility distribution service effective January 1, 2000.

Summary: On January 14, 1999, the Staff Counsel Jason Zeller of the Office of Ratepayer Advocates (“ORA”) engaged in oral ex parte communications at CPUC with Michelle Cook, advisor to Commissioner Duque. The occasion was a meeting initiated by Michael Day of Enron Corp. In addition to the aforesaid two individuals, attendees included Peter Hanschen of the Agricultural Energy Consumers Association and William Gibson of ORA. ORA stated that issues raised in PG&E’s application regarding a wires bypass charge should properly be heard in Phase II of PG&E’s general rate case (“GRC”) or in a separate rulemaking proceeding on distributed generation. ORA further stated the policy issues in a wires bypass charge impact all California electric utilities. Consideration of the issue in PG&E’s PBR application would also lengthen the proceeding according to ORA. PG&E’s preference for retention of a monopoly distribution is problematic, ORA said, in that it assumes a static vision of distribution technology. ORA concluded by stating that retention of a monopoly distribution function might impede the introduction of newer, more efficient technology.
