12/31/99            I87-11-033            Commission Investigation into Alternative Regulatory Frameworks for Local Telecommunications Exchange Carriers.

Summary: On December 28, 1999, Hallie Yacknin, Assistant General Counsel, representing the Office of the Ratepayer Advocates (ORA), met with Cmmr. Neeper and Fassil Fenikile, advisor to Cmmr. Neeper, in San Francisco. David Morse, Senior Manager, representing ORA participated by telephone. A written material was provided and attached to the notice. ORA representatives stated that it supports the analysis and conclusion of Administrative Law Judge Weismehl's Alternate Decision (AD) which would affirm that ORA should continue to perform the audit of Pacific Bell. ORA representatives also stated that, although it disagrees with the result of the Draft Decision (DD) of Cmmr. Duque, that would transfer responsibility for the audit to the Telecommunications Division (TD), that determination is one of policy and subject to the Commission's direction. ORA representatives stated that, in relying on its determinations that ORA did not comply with the Commission orders to reach its result, the DD grievously errs as a matter of fact and law. ORA representatives that, if the Commission determines to transfer the audit responsibility to TD, ORA will nonetheless need to perform a "shadow" audit in order to effectively participate in this proceeding.

Summary: On December 29, 1999, Patrick Gileau and Jonathan Bromson, attorneys representing the Office of Ratepayer Advocates (ORA), met with Bill Julian, advisor to Cmmr. Wood, in San Francisco. A handout materials were provided and attached to the notice. Gileau addressed Pacific Gas and Electric Company's (PG&E) contention that adoption of the Proposed Decision (PD) would lead to significant layoffs in areas affecting safety and reliability. Gileau also noted that ORA analyzed the tree trimming issue from three different perspectives: a four year average using two years of overspending and two years of underspending, a bottoms up approach and a top down approach. Gileau concluded by urging the Commission not to provide a gas distribution rate increase any greater than the 7.9% increase authorized by the PD. Bromson noted that PG&E was misrepresenting the PD as effectuating an electric rate decrease from the rates in effect

January 1, 1998, instead of an electric rate increase over the authorized amounts set in the 1996 GRC. Bromson also noted that if the Commission were inclined to grant PG&E a rate increase greater than that provided by the PD in order to maintain and improve reliability, as PG&E has argued since issuance of the PD, the Commission should adopt Quality Assurance Standards for PG&E.

Summary: On December 30, 1999, Jeanne Bennett, attorney, for Enron Corp. (Enron), met with Laura Manina, advisor to Cmmr. Duque, in San Francisco. A handout material was provided and attached to the notice. Also present was Mona Petrochko, Director of Regulatory Affairs for Enron. Petrochko relayed that the Proposed Decision was reasonable in light of Pacific Gas and Electric Company's (PG&E) spending practices on operations and maintenance for its electric distribution system, as well as in light of historical rate case increases. In addition, Bennett and Petrochko emphasized that in areas which directly impact system reliability such as operations and maintenance and capital additions. Bennett explained that the proposal which Enron had made as part of the general rate case to unbundle the distribution revenue requirement into nineteen cost categories.
