Severity Category	Description	Implied Weight <sup>b</sup>
Negligible	Could result in injury or illness	1
	Not resulting in a lost work day
	Loss exceeding $2,000 but less than $10,000
Marginal	Could result in injury or occupational illness	5
	Resulting in one or more lost work day(s)
	Loss exceeding $10,000 but less than $200,000
Critical	Could result in permanent partial disability	100
	Injuries or occupational illness may result in hospitalization of at least three personnel
	Loss exceeding $200,000 but less than $1,000,000
Catastrophic	Could result in death	500
	Permanent total disability
	Loss exceeding $1,000,000

<sup>b</sup> Based on monetary loss estimates in each severity category compared with those for the negligible severity category.

Risk Category	Examples
Medium	Marginal event with a probability greater than 1 in 1,000 Negligible event with a probability greater than 1 in 100
Serious	Critical event with a probability greater than 1 in 1,000 Marginal event with a probability greater than 1 in 100

<sup>b</sup> 0 is defined as no chance, and 10 is defined as certain to happen.

Table 3-5. Likelihood weights used to develop risk index score

Qualitative Expression	Original Likelihood Weight (based on data available in literature) <sup>a</sup> (0–100)	Re-Scaled Likelihood Weight Assigned for Analysis (0–10) <sup>b</sup>

Somewhat likely <sup>d</sup>	26	2.6
Very likely	85	8.5

<sup>b</sup> 0 is defined as no chance, and 10 is defined as certain to happen.

<sup>c</sup> The term unlikely represents all events with any probability ranging from unlikely to zero.

<sup>d</sup> The term somewhat likely is based on the likelihood expression sometimes (refer to Table 3-4).

Population Category (number of people affected)	Original Population Weight <sup>b</sup> (0–1,000)	Re-Scaled Population Weight Assigned for Analysis (0–10) <sup>c</sup>
0	0	0
1–3	2	0.02
4–10	7	0.07
11–25	18	0.18
26–100	63	0.63
101–1,000	550	5.5
>1,000	1,000	10

<sup>a</sup> At the California Public Utilities Commission's request, population was divided into two broad categories (workers and the general population). The effects on workers or the general population were summed together to yield an estimate of total population affected.

<sup>b</sup> With the exception of the last category, the original population weights (column 2) represent the midpoint of each population category (column 1).

<sup>c</sup> 0 is defined as zero population, and 10 is defined as greater than 1,000 people.

<sup>a</sup> Applications were reviewed to determine if the applicant identified a hazard that was significantly different from that indicated by other applicants in their equivalent business group.

<sup>b</sup> Because Exponent is recommending that police departments, fire departments, and high-security prisons be considered first for exemptions from rotating power outages, these applicants are not included in the final list of 405 applicants.

<sup>c</sup> Applications from those that were in the business groups ranked low by the panel group study were reviewed to determine if the applicant identified a hazard that was significantly different from that indicated by other applicants in their equivalent business group (i.e., peer group). These low-ranking business groups include the following: automobile and other repair shops, dry cleaning establishments, financial institutions, funeral homes, gas stations and convenience stores, grocery stores, manufacturing and production plants, office complexes and property management offices, retail stores and beauty salons, and schools and churches.
